

Even the toughest conversations can bring hope for your school.

Many school leaders are exhausted from managing flare-ups, navigating parent backlash, and watching good teachers burn out.

WayFinder develops shared language, best practices, and faith-rooted leadership habits that transform how communities respond to conflict.

Unlike secular communication trainings, WayFinder is grounded in Christian theology and built for Christian communities.

What schools experience through WayFinder:

- Leadership training
- Professional development workshops
- Coaching
- Assessments
- Culture change

As schools deepen TtT transformation, new questions emerge:

- How can leaders and staff embody our deep hope more fully in how we work together?
- How do our through-lines shape how we navigate disagreement?
- How can we engage tension in ways that build rather than erode trust?
- How can we equip staff at every level to proactively and constructively engage conflict so fewer challenges escalate?

WayFinder offers a year-long formation journey that helps Christian schools cultivate a redemptive conflict culture grounded in the gospel story.

Standard Investment

Grant opportunities are first-come, first-served for TtT schools in year 4+ for 2026 and 2027.

This cost includes a twelve-month journey consisting of leadership training, staff PD workshops, leadership coaching, organizational assessment, board presentation, and an ecosystem of resources to support culture change. Trainer travel costs will depend on location.

Schools with fewer than 300 students: $10,000 (with grant funding, it will only cost your school $5,000)

Schools with 300+ students: $12,500 (with grant funding, it will cost your school $6,250)
